

If you have an employee who experiences a work-related injury or illness and urgent treatment is required, first seek immediate medical attention, then go directly to the final orange block on this page for instructions. For all other incidents, please follow all of the steps outlined below.

